Shake up the world of science

Choose the ideal shaker package for your proteomic and genomic application needs and receive a platform and clamps to provide maximized capacity

Thermo Scientific™ MaxQ™ Digital Shakers

- A digital shaker designed to provide reliable results required for bacteria and yeast cultures
- Durable triple eccentric drive backed by 10 year parts warranty
- Maximize capacity of 250mL and 2L flasks in a compact footprint
- Digital display with simultaneous viewing of temperature, speed and time with audible and visual alarms

Thermo Scientific MaxQ Digital High Performance Shakers

- A digital high performance shaker designed for large or heavy loads to maximize your production
- Increased weight capacity of 71lbs for heavy loading
- Doubled capacity of 250mL and 2L flasks for high throughput shaking
- Options available for continuous or timed runs for added flexibility

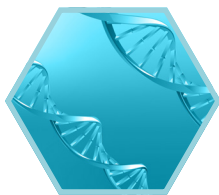

Each package includes shaker, platform and clamps in one part number for easy ordering

Proteomic Packages

Packages designed to be reliable, simple-to-use and flexible for protein expression.

- Choose from three shaker configuration options: benchtop, stackable, or large stackable
- Each shaker has package configurations optimized for 250mL or 2L flasks to maximize your research
- Incubated units are designed to maintain 37°C which is ideal for bacteria and yeast
- Refrigerated units are designed to hold temperatures at 4°C or 15°C below ambient which is ideal for protein expression
